About me

Hi I am Argi. Great to meet you. How could I describe me to you? I am a gentle giant really. I just want a place to call my own. I can be a little anxious due to being rehomed a couple of time prior to coming to the pound. Through no fault of my own being rehomed before has left me a little anxious about being left again. I am hoping that my brand-new family want to keep me forever, because that is all I want. My FOREVER home. I love being with people and just want to spend time with you. I have met other dogs and I don't mind other dogs, but I'm really not fussed on having one to live with. I would be quite happy it just being you and me. I love cuddles and pats and I love going for walks. I love laying out in the sunshine and relaxing and happy to watch you potter around. My comfort is just knowing that you are there. If you could fit me into your life and spend good quality time with me, I am sure that we can over come my anxious side in no time. As long as I know that every time you walk out the door you will walk back in again. So if you think you could you have room in your heart to fit this big goof ball of a dog, then please come and visit me as soon as you can. I will do so much better once I am out of here and in my own home again.
