About me

Hello there, I am Stella and it's really nice to meet you. I am a friendly and excitable young lass looking for a life with family and adventure. I can be quite excitable at first which means I can be a little jumpy at first. If you have young children I might bump them over but I won't mean too, so older kids might be better suited, but with some force free training I will only get better at learning these types of things. I am better at walking on the lead too. There is always something new to learn and I love it. The carers call me sweetheart because they say my nature is really sweet. I think I might be their favourite shhhh don't tell the other dogs. I have met some of the other dogs here as well. Male and female, and I just want to play with them all, so if you do already have a dog at home please ask to bring them with you when you come to meet me. Bring the kids too. Hope I get to meet you really soon.
